

NAME:

DATE:

Specialist Knowledge
DESCRIPTION	Command and Control (M1)
OUTCOME	The firefighter demonstrates knowledge of Command and Control

HYPERLINKS: Policy

Procedure

KNOWLEDGE CHECK

Q1. What must all staff must undertake regarding safety during an incident?

Q2. When the OIC Fire arrives at a scene and needs to establish control what actions are necessary if:

- the NZFS is the first agency on the scene?
- another agency leads the incident?
- NZFS takes over from another agency?

Q3. (i) What are four sources the OIC can use to gather information whilst en-route to an incident?

(ii) What are three other sources of information the OIC can access on arrival at the incident?

Q4. What do the letters R.E.C.E.O. stand for?

Q5. What factors must the OIC Fire must consider when establishing a command structure?

Q6. Explain the roles of; Manager and Commander, within the Command and Control environment?

Q7. What method does the OIC Fire use to communicate effectively with personnel on the incident ground?

Q8. What factors must the OIC Fire consider when developing an IAP or AAP?

Q9. What information should be included in a handover to another agency or party at the end of an incident?

Q10. What factors should the OIC Fire consider when releasing resources at an incident?